

Fair News Day 2, Sunday, June 9, 2019

Day 2 of fair is wrapping up and it's been hot!! Tomorrow will be even hotter. Partially because of the weather - but also because we have a full day of competition! See you at the fair.

What's on for Monday

IT'S FAMILY PRIDE DAY

2:00pm

Goat showmanship followed by dairy goat judging, market goat & pygmy goat judging

6:00pm

Hog showmanship followed by market hog judging

7:30pm

Queen Nation (main stage)

CONGRATS TO THESE SHOW WINNERS:

Athena Ekstrom: Best of Show in Photography

Farm Sculpture Project - First Place

Using scraps from our San Carlos farm, this group of amazing kids built structures representing our 4H's.

Ready to Chow Down

Did you know that as a 4-H family you can feast on a free dinner at fair? Each club hosts one night of dinner. They typically start serving around 6:30pm in the designated area near Gate 9 across from the barn. Please note there are no dinners on the following nights:

Monday 6/10
Saturday 6/15
Sunday 6/16

Meet Trooper

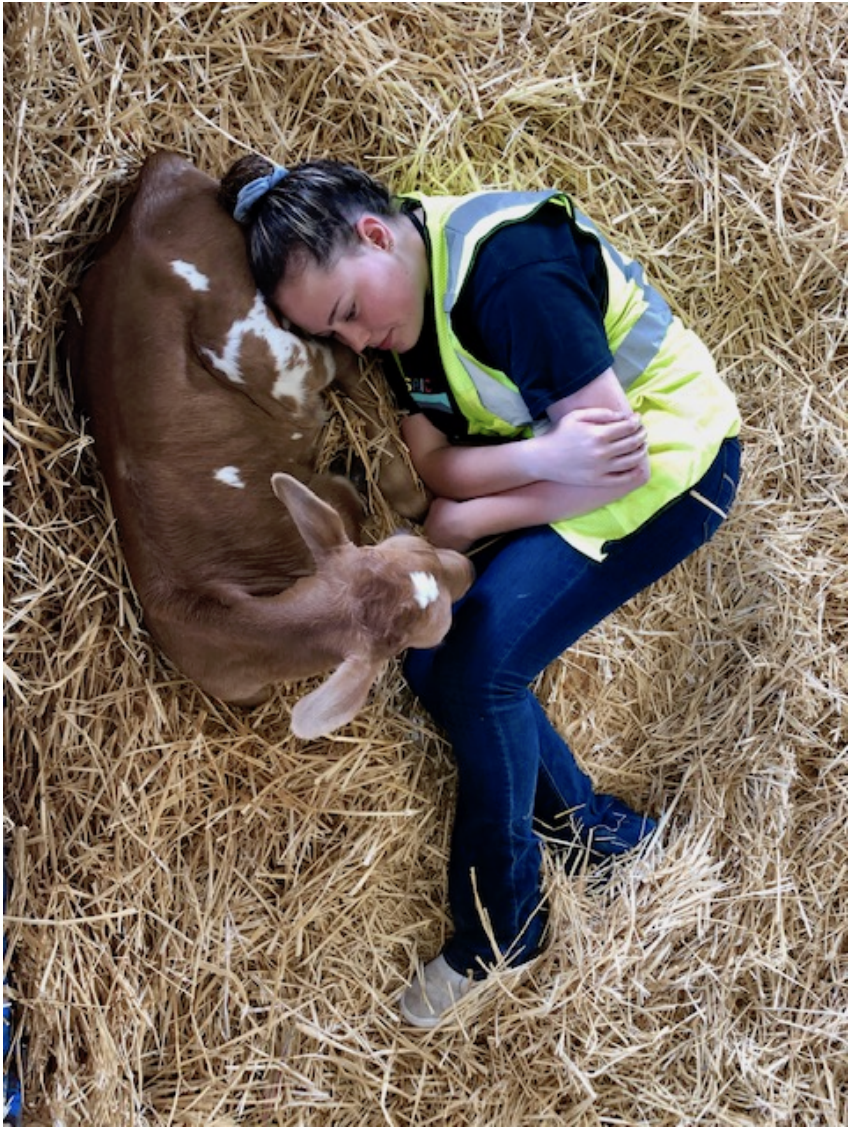

Trooper is a Hampshire Suffolk Cross lamb raised by Elise Wacha. Weighing in at 131 lbs, Trooper eats 3 lbs of feed per day. When asked about her favorite part of fair, Elise says "the relationship I build with my animal and my friends. It's the most rewarding thing to be in the show ring knowing that all your hard work that year is being recognized"

Pen Pride Pig Update

Chili & Pepper have been resting in the heat. They get exercised twice a day in the arena by the kids in our Pen Pride project.

PICTURE OF THE DAY
Submitted by Catherine Campbell

Sometimes you just need a cuddle break with the baby animals in the barn.

MORE FAIR PICTURES

Posted by: Kelly Steitz