General Meeting

Tuesday May 19, 7:00pm
via Zoom

President's Message

Hey everyone!

Our last Zoom General Meeting was a big hit, and I loved getting to see everyone! Next meeting is the last meeting of the year, and it's when we will be doing our officer elections! The positions that we will be voting on are the Vice President of Programs, the Junior Farm Manager, and the Junior Farm Manager of Operations.

It's also a double meeting, so make sure to sign on to get all of the fun and important information that we have for you (there will be another game, too!)

I've been finding creative ways to stay busy at home. I'm borrowing a sewing machine from my Grandma, and instead of just throwing away damaged clothes that I can't donate, I've been making the cloth into things like face masks and bags! It's a great way to learn a new skill and stay creative. I'm so excited to hear about how you've been staying creative and active lately!

Hope to see you on the next Zoom call!
Samantha Campbell, President

Hi, I am Leanna Gower, this is my 6th year in 4H, I am 16, and a sophomore at Carlmont. I am a counselor at 4H camp, as some of you may know me. I was treasurer this year, and I have learned so much about communication and organization. I want to be your vice president of program because I want to make each meeting more fun, We all love the traditions that we have, but I think we could re-vamp them, so everyone learns something new. I'd love to hear your ideas, vote for Leanna for V.P. of Program!

Thanks, Leanna Gower

Vice President for Program (Continued)

Hi! My name is Annika Larson and I am running for Vice President of Program. I will be entering my 5th year in 4-H this fall, and 4-H has been a major part of my life for the last several years. I have served as our club's Treasurer, Recording Secretary, and Attendance Secretary, and have been a member of the leadership project for the past 3 years. As Vice President, I will be a mature, level-headed leader who can work with others to plan out the club's activities for the year. Please vote Annika Larson for Vice President of Program.

Vice President for Membership

Hi, my name is Quincy Thuener and I am running to be your vice president for membership of the 2020-21 4-H year. For a little background on me, I have been a 4-h member for the past nine years and am currently a junior at Design Tech High School. I have held four officer positions and JTLED for many projects including but not limited to the show chicken, market chicken, and intro to farm project. For the majority of my 4-H career, you could find me at the farm working my animals, teaching a younger member how to show a chicken, or spewing fun facts about farm animals at the general meetings! I am very excited to take on the role of vice president of membership and hope to make 4-H inspire all our member's as much as it has inspired me.

Recording Secretary

Hi there! My name is Samantha Campbell, and I am 17 years old. I have been in the 4-H club for 8 years now, and I love this club. In the past I have been the Club Treasurer, Club Vice President, and Club President and I had so much fun in all of those positions. I am running for Club Recording Secretary unopposed this year, and I am so excited to take on this position. I am a very organized and efficient person, and I have a lot of experience sitting at the table in front at all of the meeting and paying attention. I'm looking forward to finishing my 4-H career with a bang and spending lots of time with all of you! —Samantha Campbell

In the past I've been in the Leadership project as well as been a JTL, and this year I'm running for the position of Correspondence Secretary for my 2nd year. I'd be a great Correspondence Secretary because I love to write, and am currently in advanced English at school. My writing has even been published in my middle school school's literacy journal. I enjoy sending thank-you cards and am good at note-taking. Also, I'm very organized and efficient. Please vote for me for Correspondence Secretary. Thank you!

I look forward to seeing you at the sign-in table in September.

Treasurer

Hi, my name is Roen Thuener. I have been in 4-H for 8 years and I would like to be the treasurer for next year. I have raised 2 pigs, 2 goats and lots of chickens. I have been in the archery, farm sculpture, leadership and woodworking projects. I would be a good treasurer because in the chicken, pig, and goat projects I learned how to calculate the expenses for my market animals.

Junior Farm Manager

My name is Peyton Steitz and I am running for Jr. Farm Manager. I choose to run for this position because I am very passionate about our farm. Next year, many farm members will be graduating seniors. My hope for the farm is that we're able to encourage more kids to join and raise large animals so our community lasts for many years to come. I've already started working on this goal by launching the "Intro to Farm" project which gives kids another opportunity to learn about raising large animals. Next year I'm excited to look into building on to this project to continue to grow our farm family.

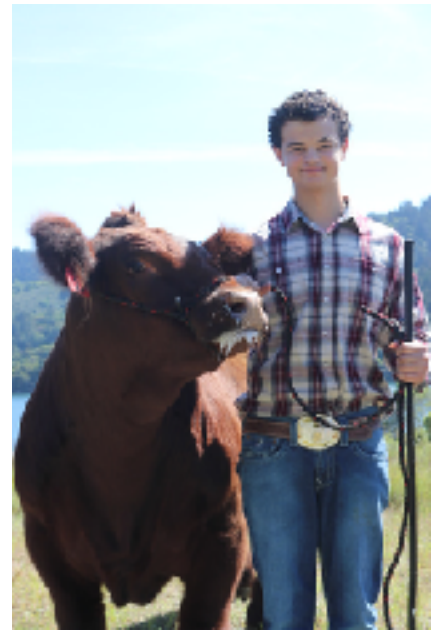

Hi my name is Hayley! I'm running for Junior Farm Boss. With your vote I will be able to help lead the farm in making decisions, create an inclusive environment, creating solutions for problems on the farm, and helping make the farm the best experience for all! I'm qualified for this position because I have done every animal on the San Carlos Farm. That includes goat, lambs, pigs, chickens and turkeys! I have held many leadership positions in and out of 4-H. I'm well rounded and will be able to connect with each project when finding solutions. With your vote I can achieve my goals of creating a meeting space for farm members, working with other projects in 4-h to improve the farm, and keeping the farm a place that's enjoyable to grow and learn! Don't be hasty. Vote for Hayley!

Junior Farm Operations Manager

My name is Jayden Houston. I have enjoyed being in 4-H for 6 years and I am running for Junior Farm Operations Manager because I have the experience to make our farm look as nice as possible. Additionally, my goal is to have an organized, well run farm that looks amazing. I feel I am qualified for this position because I am a hard worker and am familiar with farm operations. I have raised all of the animals on our farm; 2 steers, pigs, goats, a lamb and turkeys (one of my turkeys came in first place.) I have goats, a rabbit and chickens at home. In addition to the woodworking project, I have done countless projects on the farm, at work and at home. Please vote for me and help me to make a well run, organized farm!

Hi, my name is Pablo Pinilla, and I'm running for the position of Junior Farm Operations Manager. I'm 17 years old and a Junior at Carlmont High School. This is my 6th year in 4-H, and I've served in several leadership roles, including 3 officer positions, Teen Leader for Beginning 4-H, and assistant director for 4-H Camp. I have especially loved my time on the farm, and I have raised 2 pigs and 4 turkeys. I hope to serve the farm by providing maintenance and improvements to keep it safe and fun for members and their animals. Vote for Pablo!!

Club Newsletter Editor

Hi, my name is Ian Gower. I want to be the club newsletter editor to organize the information spread out to the club each month. I have been in 4-H for 6 years, and I am a manager at the county 4-H camp. I have been in the leadership project for 4 years, and I love to help out the club in any way possible. As newsletter editor, I will be sure to make the newsletter the best it can be. I hope I can increase member participation in writing articles for the newsletter as well. Thank you, Ian

Club Photographer

Hi, my name is Kian Badiei, and I am running for the position of Club Photographer. I am 13 years old and attending 7th grade at San Carlos Charter Learning Center. As of now, this is my 4th year in 4H. This year, I am only in the goats project with my dairy goat Blaire, but I have previously been in the Beekeeping and Market Chicken projects.

Club Photographer is a very important role, and the person who receives it is entrusted with capturing moments in time that will be preserved forever, and seen by many. I feel as though I am qualified for this job because I have taken classes on photography, as well as having access to a camera. As club photographer, I promise I will try my hardest to photograph the best moments that our 4H club and member experience. Vote Kian Badiei for club photographer!

Member Reports

Hands Across the Generations

This month, the Hands Across the Generations project did a virtual meeting to close out the year. Unfortunately due to the times we live in, we could not get in touch with any of the seniors for one last visit for the year. But, we did have a meeting for the project members that were able to attend. It was a smaller group than we would have at regular meetings, but it was a nice way to close out the year and say goodbye until hopefully the fall when we can get back into the Elms. Overall it was really fun and I enjoyed seeing all of the members able to attend!—Taylor Meeks

Dungeons & Dragons Project

D&D is a fun tabletop role-playing game that can bring together strangers. It is very engaging. You choose a race and a class out of many different choices that are based off of fantasy. Someone who has the title of the Dungeon Master (DM) runs your story, called a campaign.

For example, in the 4-H D&D project run by Logan and Adrian Spinali, I am playing a Dwarf Druid who can cast spells and turn into animals. Adrian and Logan moved the game onto a virtual D&D program called Roll20 that is the exact same thing as regular D&D except for it is on the computer. D&D is very fun game and I hope you try out the project next year. —Nick Damon

Equine Project

This Spring, for Equine Project, each member was researching a horse related topic and was going to present it at the Portola Valley Horse Fair. However, due to the COVID 19 pandemic, the horse fair was cancelled and so were our project meetings. Our project leader encouraged us to, instead, write an article on our topic and then she worked with the San Mateo County Horsemen's Association so that our articles can be published in their June magazine. I just won an award from them for my article on "What Horses Eat in the Wild." Here is my article:

What Do Horses Eat In The Wild?

In the wild, horses eat mostly grass, but they also eat forage or browse plants such as forbs and shrubs. Grasses are plants with narrow leaves and parallel veins, such as the Idaho Fescue Grass, Squirrel Tail Grass, and the Great Basin Wild Rye. The wild grasses that horses eat tend to look more like weeds than common lawn grasses, which, incidentally, are not good for horses because they do not have good nutrition content. Forbs are flowering wild plants with net-like veins on their leaves that are found in prairies. Some forbs that horses eat are the Scarlet Globemallow and the Indian Paintbrush. Shrubs are woody plants with multiple stems, such as Juniper, Bitterbrush, or Greasewood. Although horses, in general, are not made for eating meat, wild horses might eat a bite of fish found lying on the ground.

As important as it is to understand what wild horses eat, it is also important to understand how they eat. Wild horses may move up to 20 miles per day, continually eating grass, forbs, and shrubs along the way. They eat for an estimated 15-17 hours per day. This movement is beneficial for the horses because it helps food move through the digestive system. Another beneficial behavior of wild horses is bending over while they eat. This is their natural posture because their food is growing low on the ground. This helps them because it positions their mouth correctly and it ensures that their food mixes well with their saliva. Eating from the ground also positions their head so that debris in the nasal passages gets flushed out by nasal secretions, reducing respiratory problems. When we learn about wild horse behavior, we can learn about ways to help our own pet horses have the most natural and healthy life possible. —Clara Hause Stephenson
